

Video: Seeking Multiple Pathways with “Three Useful Tools”

	Character	Subtitles
1.	The Boy :	Mum, I have no idea what to study after graduation. What should I do?
2.	Mother :	First, you need to be certain about your interests.
3.	Mother :	Find out which subject you are interested in and which institutions offer the relevant programmes.
4.	The Boy :	Actually...I want to be an architect.
5.	Mother :	In a seminar organised by the Education Bureau (EDB) for parents,
6.	Mother :	I have learnt of the three useful tools for the HKDSE Examination results release. One of them may be helpful to you.
7.	Mother :	That’s “e-Navigator”.
8.	Mother :	This mobile application is compatible with different smartphone operating systems.
9.	Mother :	It guides you in obtaining information about programmes offered by different institutions, e.g. degree, higher diploma, and associate degree programmes.
10.	Mother :	Let’s see how it works. First, under “Search Programmes”, select the area of studies you find interesting.
11.	Mother :	In your case, you can pick “Architecture, Construction and Town Planning”.
12.	Mother :	Then select the institutions you wish to check out.
13.	Mother :	The screen will show the number of “Publicly-funded Programmes”, “Self-financing Programmes”, “Other programmes on Qualifications Register” and “Diploma Yi Jin”.
14.	Mother :	Tap the programme type that you prefer.
15.	Mother :	You’ll see the relevant programmes offered by the institutions.
16.	Mother :	You may tap a programme to see more details
17.	Mother :	What’s more, you can enter your HKDSE Examination results.
18.	Mother :	The mobile application will match your results with the minimum entrance requirements of various programmes and shortlist those that you may apply.
19.	The Boy :	Hey, you too are searching for information on further studies?
20.	The Girl :	You’re right. Maybe we can get the advice from our teacher.
21.	Mr Lam :	Hello.

Video: Seeking Multiple Pathways with “Three Useful Tools”

	Character	Subtitles
22.	The Girl :	Hello, Mr Lam.
23.	Mr Lam :	You guys still look puzzled about planning for the future. Let me show you two of the “Three Useful Tools”.
24.	Mr Lam :	“Compass@HKDSE”.
25.	Mr Lam :	“Compass@HKDSE” provides essential information, such as enquiry numbers and websites on further studies, multiple pathways and various supporting services.
26.	The Girl :	Mr Lam, is there any quicker access to the key dates for JUPAS?
27.	Mr Lam :	“Further Studies and Career Map” is what you need.
28.	Mr Lam :	It lists out the key dates for the application of different programmes.
29.	The Girl :	What if I want to find a job?
30.	Mr Lam :	Students who, like you, decide to enter the job market may make use of “Further Studies and Career Map” to gain easier access to career information.
31.	The Boy :	So where can we get the “Three Useful Tools”?
32.	Mr Lam :	You guys can browse the EDB’s “Designated Webpage for Secondary 6 Students”.
33.	The Girl :	The EDB’s support measures are very useful in helping us prepare for the HKDSE Examination results release and planning for the future.
34.	Mr Lam :	Seeking Multiple Pathways with “Three Useful Tools”.

The End